

You are selling the freedom and democracy of this great country short by allowing fewer owners of media outlets. The big shall swallow the small and we will lose diversity in our media marketplace. And the fewer we have the closer we get to a totalitarian society. I recognize that the current administration may favor something like that but we as citizens are determined to remain free and informed